

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA. ACNE, TETTER ETC.

While Eczema, Acne, Tetters, Salt Rheum, etc., are troubles which affect the skin, their source is far deeper than the outside cuticle. These affections are caused by irritating humors, or uratic acid in the blood. Such impurities inflame and irritate the delicate network of fibrous tissue which lies just beneath the surface of the outer skin, and the inflammatory discharge thus produced is forced out through the pores and glands, and is continually kept up while the blood remains infected. This exudation causes the formation of scales and crusts so often seen in Eczema, and when they are scratched off the flesh is left raw and more susceptible to other infection. It can very readily be seen then that to produce a cure the circulation must be purified and cleansed. This S.S.S. will do. It goes down to the very bottom, removes all humors and impurities, neutralizes the excessive acids of the system and in this way removes the cause of disease. Local applications can only soothe the irritation and assist in keeping the skin clean; they never produce a cure because such treatment does not reach the blood. S.S.S. restores to the thin, acid blood all its lost properties, makes it pure and rich and enables it to nourish the skin and keep it soft, smooth and healthy. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

INVISIBLE BIFOCALS
THE LATEST TRIUMPH IN OPTICS
WE MAKE THEM

J. S. LEWIS & CO. JEWELERS

IN SEARCH OF A GOOD LAUNDRY
You will travel far and find one to equal ours for high class work. All our customers speak in the highest manner of the uniform excellence of our work both in our Laundry and Dry Cleaning Department. A single trial is all that is necessary to convince you.

OGDEN STEAM LAUNDRY CO.
Expert Launderers and French Dry Cleaners. 437 25th St. Phone 174.

SLADE
Successor to Allen Transfer Co.
J. C. Slade, Lessee.
VANS, DRAYS, BAGGAGE WAGGONS, PIANO, FURNITURE AND SAFE MOVING.
403 25th St. Both Phones 321

Chance of Life Time
Photo of Future Husband or Wife 10c
446 TWENTY-SECOND ST.

BROOM RESTAURANT
REMOVED TO VIENNA CAFE
322 25th St.
Meals same price as Broom Restaurant. Special Dinner 25c.
Lunch from 11 to 4 p. m.
Dinner from 4 to 8 p. m.
LEE, FOGG & TOM, Managers.

CHICAGO HOUSE
FURNISHED ROOMS BY THE DAY, WEEK OR MONTH
330 24th Street OGDEN, UTAH

Danderine works wonders. It produces hair just as surely as rain produces a crop. It produces a thick growth of luxuriant hair when all other remedies fail. We guarantee Danderine. All drug stores sell it—25c, 50c and $1 per bottle. To prove its worth send this ad with 10c in stamps of silver and we will mail you a large free bottle. KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., Chicago, Ill.

WANT ADS BRING BIG RESULTS.

SALT LAKE AND STATE NEWS

STATE BOARD SUBMITS A GRATIFYING REPORT

Utah Barbers Obey Laws—Strict Regulations—Few Cases of Disease.

Salt Lake, Aug. 22.—The state board of barber examiners yesterday submitted its annual report to the governor. The report shows that during the entire year it has been unnecessary to make a single arrest in order to enforce the law. What minor violations of the law there have been have been due to carelessness rather than to any wilful disobedience of the law, and these have been immediately corrected when attention was directed to them.

The report shows that there are 106 barber shops in Utah, employing 555 journeymen barbers and 75 apprentices. In Salt Lake there are 237 barbers and 29 apprentices, working in 76 barber shops. During the year 94 out of 111 applicants have passed examinations and have been given certificates.

Something of an epidemic of Impetigo, or "barber's itch," broke out in Salt Lake during the first of the year. Under the direction of the state board of barber examiners each shop was fumigated and each case placed under quarantine, and in a short time the disease was stamped out.

The receipts from the examinations and licenses issued were $1,411.45, exceeding the expenditures for the year by $3.05.

The following list of deputy inspectors is announced:

Beaver, Edward Hunter, Beaver City; Box Elder, Oscar Peterson, Brigham City; Cache, A. H. Mitchell, Logan; Carbon, John R. Ayre, Scofield; Davis, A. Burningham, Bountiful; Emery, B. Frank Petty, Castle Dale; Grand, Charles Fish, Moab; Garfield, J. L. Clark; Kane, William Crosby, Kanab; Millard, F. C. Melville, Fillmore; Morgan, Arthur B. Lyon, Morgan City; Piute, Henry Stables, Panguitch; Rich, Arthur Finley, Randolph; Salt Lake, Charles E. White, Salt Lake City; J. T. Bean, Bingham; Carl Mork, Murray; Sanpete, M. H. Sperry, Mantol; Sevier, H. S. Ivie, Richfield; Summit, U. S. Bedell, Park City; Tooele, E. A. Bonnell, Tooele City; Uintah, George R. Smith, Vernal; Utah, Alma Stewart, Provo; Wasatch, Frank E. Peterson, Heber City; Washington, W. W. Gray, St. George; Weber, W. M. Pigott, president, and H. D. B. Brighton, Ogden.

In conclusion the report says:

"The members of the board feel satisfied with the conditions of the barber shops throughout the state. The majority of the barbers are in favor of the law and help the board by seeing that all barbers are registered as soon as they apply for work, thus benefiting themselves by protecting their own work and prohibiting the transient journeymen from absorbing the daily earnings which rightly belong to the barber who has paid his fee and passed this examining board successfully."

"We urgently invite the public at large throughout the state to become familiar with the rules and regulations governing the sanitary conditions of barber shops. Those rules and regulations, according to the law, must be posted in a conspicuous place in every barber shop in the state."

"Every barber shop patron should insist upon being served with absolutely clean linen, and this includes Turkish towels for massaging, clean comb and brush, the mug and lather brush must be cleaned with running hot water, and the razor dipped into a sufficiently strong antiseptic, preferably a 20 per cent solution of formaldehyde, which every barber should have in front of his chair."

"If the public would demand the above as outlined it would be of good service in helping the board maintain the proper sanitary conditions in all barber shops."

The report is signed by William M. Pigott, president of the board, D. J. Watts, secretary, and Dr. C. M. Benedict, treasurer.

MOSES THATCHER CALLED BY DEATH

Logan, Aug. 21.—Moses Thatcher, formerly a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles, is dead. All hope for his recovery was abandoned today, and he passed away at 11:10 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Thatcher has been seriously ill for several months, but the critical stage was reached only a few days ago, when he suffered a stroke of paralysis, which made one side helpless. He was at his summer residence in Logan canyon when he was attacked by the paralytic stroke. He was removed at once to Logan, where he was attended by Dr. Campbell.

Moses Thatcher was born in Sangamon county, Illinois, February 2, 1842. As a child he witnessed the bloody battles between the Mormons and the mobs that sought to drive them from their homes in and near Nauvoo. With his father, Hezekiah Thatcher, he came across the plains by ox team in 1844 and 1848. They passed through Utah going to California with the rush for gold in 1849.

They located in Yolo county, California, where the father kept a small eating house in a mining camp, and Moses and his brothers herded cattle and sought for gold. In 1856, through the influence of some Mormon elders traveling in California, he was baptized a Mormon, and the following year became an elder and preached through the mining districts in the vicinity of Auburn.

Called to Salt Lake. In the fall of that year he was called to Salt Lake to help defend it against the advance of the United States army. Accompanying him to Salt Lake were his four brothers. Three of whom fought with the Utah militia in repelling the advance of Johnson's army. Moses Thatcher served as a night guard on the special police force of Salt Lake. In the winter of 1860 he went with his father, who in the meantime had joined his sons in Utah, to Cache valley, where he has lived almost continuously ever since.

Mr. Thatcher attended the Deseret university in the spring of 1861 and in the summer was married to Miss Lettie Farr, a niece of the late Lorin Farr, first mayor of Ogden. From 1861 until recent years Mr. Thatcher was prominently identified with the religious and political history of the community. He was a zealous worker for the Mormon church, and his broken health of recent years was largely due to the hardships which he underwent in the religious labors of his youth.

In 1861 he was made a seventy by President Brigham Young and attached to the second quorum. He took up his residence in Logan and built the first frame house in that city. That winter the Indians were making inroads on the settlers of northern Utah, and a force of "minute men" was organized for defense. Moses Thatcher was a "minute man" in the company of Captain Thomas E. Ricks. Later, for more effective defense, the county was organized into the Cache military district, and Moses Thatcher became the captain of a company of fifty cavalrymen. He afterwards served on the staffs of Colonel Ricks and General Hyde.

For a short time he lived in Salt Lake, where he was an employee in the store of N. S. Ransohoff & Co. He returned to Logan and became associated with his father in the general mercantile business under the firm name of Thatcher & Son. In 1866 he went to Salt Lake to learn telegraphy, but shortly after his arrival was sent to Europe on a mission by President Brigham Young. He was gone two years, during which time his health became seriously impaired.

In Mercantile Business. On returning from Europe he re-entered the mercantile business at Logan, and afterwards became manager of the Logan Cooperative institution, which was afterwards merged with the Z. C. M. I. and became Logan branch, and of which Moses Thatcher continued as manager until 1879.

In 1870, on the organization of the Utah Northern Railroad company, he was elected a director and secretary of the company. Later he became general superintendent of the line, and under his supervision branch lines into Idaho were built.

Mr. Thatcher represented Cache and Rich counties in the territorial legislative council for ten years. He was one of the earliest advocates of statehood for Utah and was active in laboring with congress to secure the admission of Utah to the Union. He was a member of the constitutional convention of 1872 and one of the delegates who went to Washington to demand the admission of the state to the Union.

When the Cache valley stake of the Mormon church was organized in 1877 Moses Thatcher was unanimously chosen president of the stake. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico. On April 9, 1879, he was ordained a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles by President John Taylor. That fall he went to Mexico at the head of the first party of Mormon missionaries to enter that republic. His success was so marked that under his leadership permanent Mormon colonies were later established and continued in Mexico. During the next few years he made twenty-three visits to Mexico